SIFTON FINDS MAJORITY WILL SUPPORT HIS POLICY

Vote at Caucus Last Night Stood at 20 to 12 in Favor of Abandoning A. & G. W.

WILL BE DIVISION ON THE QUESTION

At the Liberal Caucus last night John A. McDougall, junior member for Edmonton, made a speech lasting over half an hour in which he declared that Edmonton did not want a line built into the North country yet—the time was not ripe for it.

There was a Liberal caucus last night. It was held in Premier Sifton's office in the legislative buildings; and was called for the purpose of getting the opinion of the Liberal members to the proposed abandonment of the Alberta and Great Waterways railway as announced at the caucus last Wednesday night.

A majority of those present supported the Premier's policy.

The caucus was a long one. It commenced at eight o'clock or shortly after and lasted until nearly half past eleven. And from all indications it must have been a fairly lively meeting.

ASQUITH YIELDS AT LAST TO THE SHRIEKING SISTERS.

London, Nov. 22.—Premier Asquith was assaulted by the suffragettes in the precincts of the House of Commons today and saved from rough handling only by the prompt arrival of a strong body of police.

Premier Asquith has yielded to the importunities of suffragettes. In common today he announced that if he was still in power during the next session of parliament, the government would give facilities for the consideration of a women's franchise bill, so framed as to admit of free amendment.

BENNETT WILL PUT QUERIES

To Move This Afternoon That Facts of Premier's Call Be Tabled.

YESTERDAY'S SESSION
Bramley-Moore Made Strong Speech in Favor of Provincial Resources Resolution.

The discussion of Mr. Bramley-Moore's resolution to request the Dominion government to hand over to the province the right to manage and control internal resources will be continued in the legislature this afternoon, when Mr. J. K. Cornwall, the second of the resolution will speak.

Mr. Bennett will move this afternoon that an hour's address be presented to His Honor the Lieutenant Governor, praying that His Honor will cause to be laid before this House all letters, telegrams, correspondence, papers and documents, in connection with the resignation of the Premier, the Hon. A. C. Rutherford, and the summoning of the Hon. Arthur Lewis Sifton, then Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the Province, to assume the responsibility of forming a new administration.

Mr. Bennett will also move that an order of the house be made for a return showing

All letters, telegrams, memoranda, correspondence and documents in the custody of possession of the Government, or any Department of the Public Service, regarding the acquisition of and payment for a boulevard along the Bow River, in the range of West of the 5th Meridian.

The bill respecting the payment of wages forthrightly introduced by Mr. O'Brien will receive a second reading this afternoon, as will the bill to amend the Calgary, M. C. A. introduced by Mr. Cushing.

The house will go into committee of the whole for the discussion of the following resolutions, and after receiving witnesses and evidence, an act respecting the priority among execution creditors in act respecting the University of Alberta, and an act respecting the raising of loans authorized by the legislature.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. Bramley-Moore spoke on his resolution asking the Dominion government to turn over to the province all the natural resources. Several bills were considered, also.

The Bennett asked the premier if the government was going to present a statement showing the amounts of money raised and expended by royal warrant since last May. Mr. Sifton replying in the affirmative saying that a statement would be brought down with the estimates.

Will Be a Division
That the question will go to a division in the house there is little doubt and if it does, a vote in favor of the Premier's policy will likely result, there being about twenty in favor and eighteen opposed to his bid.

It is expected that at this afternoon's session of the house the premier will only give notice of motion as to his proposal in regard to the A. & G. W.

PLASTERERS BACK AT WORK

"We aren't interested ourselves in the question of the plasterers," said A. O. Wetmore, secretary of the Builders' Exchange, when seen by the Capital this morning in connection with the settlement of the strike.

The contractors, however, are taking the men back as fast as they can get them.

"We have six men working this morning," said Mr. Marshall Hughes, foreman of the Crystal block, "and want two more right away."

"We have sixteen plasterers working this morning," was the information that came over the phone from Phoebe and Baboon. "Ten at the Moser and Ryder building on First street and six at the Canada Permanent on McDougall Avenue."

Carroll and Spencer are as yet doing no plastering on the high school. "We expect, however," said one of the firm "to have a number working in two or three days."

The Builders' Exchange claim that none of the men prominent in bringing on the strike have been taken back to work, but so far as is known, no discrimination is being shown.

HUNDREDS AT FUNERAL OF TOLSTOI

Tulla, Russia, Nov. 22.—Through-out the night and during the early hours today special trains arrived from all parts of Russia to take to the funeral of Count Leo Tolstoy, who died at his Moscow country estate, Yasnaya Polyana, on Nov. 20.

The funeral of Count Leo Tolstoy, who died at his Moscow country estate, Yasnaya Polyana, on Nov. 20, was held at the funeral home of the Tolstoy family, where the body was lying in state.

The following is Tolstoy's written request: "The grave be at the foot of 'Poverty Oak,' the spot where in childhood I buried a great rookling horse."

DR. CRIPPEN STILL CLAIMS INNOCENCE

MAKE BUDGET SPEECH SOON

Premier Sifton stated to the Capital this morning that the budget speech would be made as soon as possible after the announcement of the compensation to be paid the Dominion government for buildings taken over by the province, which was the cause of the premier's recent trip to Ottawa, will also be made in the course of a short time.

CRIPPEN SAYS "I'M INNOCENT"

With Death on the Morrow, Hopes Wife Will Some Day Clear His Name.

London, Nov. 22.—With the last vestige of hope gone, Dr. Crippen is to-day calm and resigned to the fate that must overcome him on the gallows Wednesday morning. The wife murderer is standing up well under the terrific mental strain and the jailers say he will not break down before he is put to death.

Has Not Confessed
Rumors that Crippen had confessed are to-day denied emphatically, though they were given wide circulation yesterday.

The American still protests his innocence and expresses the hope that the case will re-appear some day and clear his name.

DODGE THE DROPS IN SUPREME COURT

Ceiling Leaks, Plaster Falls, So Lawyers and Others Are On the Jump.

The tedium of the supreme court is varied with a bit of interest and danger these days. A few inches fall of snow and a subsequent warm weather has worked havoc with the roofing of the old building. A constant drip in different parts of the room warns the unwariness to occupy only those seats situated between the drops. A good sized leak was over the ceiling of the court room, and warns the unwariness to occupy only those seats situated between the drops. A good sized leak was over the ceiling of the court room, and warns the unwariness to occupy only those seats situated between the drops.

Yesterday afternoon during the progress of a case the crash of falling plaster in the rear of the room threw the witnesses into consternation and a glance at the ceiling was not calculated to reassure them for besides the vacant spots which show traces of former vandalism, large areas of plaster indicate that similar land slides are likely to occur in future.

EXONERATE DAIRY INSPECTOR LOGAN

Commissioners Decide Trivial Differences Caused the Rumors

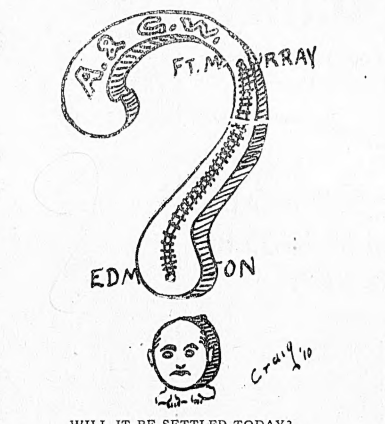

Andrew Logan, the city dairy inspector, has been exonerated of charges of impartiality and needlessly interfering in the business relations of dairy and when analyzing the charges, made by Manager Prexy of that company, and which were investigated a couple of weeks ago. The finding of the city commissioners who conducted the enquiry was handed to the Capital this morning by Commissioner Hamilton.

The commissioners say that they found the evidence generally contradictory and that Logan was not guilty of the charges. They also found that the charges were based on trivial differences and that Logan was not guilty of the charges.

REVOLUTION SWEEPING OVER MEXICAN REEUBLIC

Three Hundred Federal Troops Reported to Have Joined the Revolutionists

MANY STATES SEE HEAVY FIGHTING

Mexico City, Nov. 22.—Revolt has broken out in many states of Mexico. The most serious feature of the uprising is the report that three hundred federal troops went over to the revolutionists at Gomez, Palaco, taking with them large quantities of arms and ammunition. It is practically certain that there has been heavy fighting with enormous bloodshed.

The territory affected spreads far and wide from a point less than 100 miles north west of the city of Mexico to the United States border. In addition fighting is reported in Puebla, south-east of Mexico City, in the state of Vera Cruz, east of the Capital.

According to advices received this morning, San Antonio, San Andres, Torreon, Toluca, Minaca, Encinillas, Guerrero and the surrounding country in the state of Chihuahua was taken by the revolutionists last night. They confiscated all the stores, military equipment and surrounded all cattle and horses. Chihuahua is under martial law.

Revolutionists Repulsed
It is reported that the revolutionists attacked the town of Parral in the state of Chihuahua at four this morning and were repulsed with the loss of fifteen men.

The last wire has been cut near Gomez, Palaco. A train of soldiers disembarked at Jimenez, awaiting reinforcement coming from the south. The town is poorly garrisoned, and will fall unless reinforcements arrive soon. Revolutionists surround the city.

At Acambato, state of Guanajuato, three men broke open the jail and freed the prisoners. They looted shops and confiscated all arms and ammunition.

They went to the municipal palace and secured all the county funds. They were met by troops at midnight and in a fight twenty were killed and eighty were captured.

Torren has been put under martial law and business suspended. The electric railway to Gomez, Palaco, was stopped and all people were kept indoors. Soldiers are now out at night and are clapping the revolutionists from the hills.

It is announced that two special trains from Mexico City reached Torren early this morning, bringing a battalion of infantry and a battalion of cavalry. These forces will be distributed along the northern frontier wherever needed. It is asserted the revolutionists have evacuated Gomez Palaco and are heading for San Pedro de las Golamas, state of Gochito.

Seized Telegraphs
The Mexican government has declared a monopoly of all telegraph lines, both government and private, and no message can be transmitted except under government censor.

Great Loss of Life and Property in Inundation of Indo-China

Saigon, French Indo, China, Nov. 22.—One thousand persons were drowned and 400 boats lost during floods in the Province of Quanggai in Annam.

CHEMICAL CAUSED FIRE IN WINNIPEG

Winnipeg, Nov. 22.—Fire which broke out shortly after eight this morning in the warehouse of Martin Bole and Wynne, wholesale druggists, 203 Market street, practically gutted the building, the loss being about $300,000. It is supposed to have started from spontaneous combustion of chemicals on the third floor.

REPORT TONIGHT

It is expected that the committee on the east end bridge will make their report on the matter to the city council at the meeting of the city fathers tonight, nothing else of importance is slated for discussion.

GIVE UP HOPE OF SOLUTION

Syndicate Avenue Murder Mystery Will Probably Remain As Dark as Ever.

Chief of Police Lacey admitted to the Capital this morning that the police department had practically given up all hope of solving the mystery surrounding the murder of Roman Fedenik, the Galician who was done to death at the corner of Syndicate Avenue and the railway tracks in August.

"We have done everything possible to solve the case," said the chief, "and outside a little scoring, we have given it up. The reward of $200 offered for information concerning the murderer is quite sufficient to induce any foreigner to tell what he knows, if he can't guess the information of a countryman is more reliable."

The case was a very difficult one, on account of the fact that there was any trace of it. It will have to be left to work out itself."

COMPLETE LAYING OF HEAVY STEEL

Line From Calgary to Strathcona Will Soon Be Equipped Properly.

NEWS NOTES OF 'SCONA

Delegates at Local Improvement Convention to Ask for Stated Grant for Roads.

Strathcona, Nov. 22.—With barely three miles of track remaining to be laid the C. P. R. construction gang under foreman Bassett started work yesterday morning in closing the last gap on the C. & E. with heavy steel. This last link of light steel extends only three miles out of the city and with this replaced by 80-pound rails the whole line between Strathcona and Calgary, a distance of 191 miles, will be equipped with the heavy-weight metal. Two years ago this improvement was started by the C. P. R. and about half the distance between the two cities was laid with heavy rails before winter put a stop to operations. Last spring work was resumed on the contract and the southern end of the line was finished several months ago. It was impossible, however, to complete the work from Leduc north at that time owing to the scarcity of 80-pound rails. The supply was sent on some weeks since and the construction gang is now laying the last stretch of track.

This important improvement to the C. & E. will prove a boon to general traffic when the faster service is inaugurated, possibly some time early in the coming spring. About two hours will be clipped off the present even and a half hour schedule in the Calgary run for passenger trains.

HOSPITAL WAS NOT NEGLIGENT

After hearing all the evidence yesterday in the suit brought by Mrs. Addie Barber against the Sisters of Misericordia, Chief Justice Harvey allowed the motion of C. C. McCall for a dismissal of the case. There is no evidence," said Judge Harvey "of any negligence." The only witness as to the patient's condition prior to the accident testified that there was any trace of delirium. If I don't accept his statement who else shall I believe? I can't guess. There is no evidence of course, Dr. Folinsbee's evidence that there was no danger in the patient being left alone. That in any point on the case, all else is immaterial. It is perfectly clear that there was no negligence.

The witness referred to was Mr. Duffy, who was on duty at the Misericordia the night of the accident on the third floor where Wm. Barber was confined. After giving him an ice-pack he left the floor for a few moments to telephone and coming back found the patient gone and the window open. The judge, however, decided that leaving a patient sleeping for a few minutes was not negligence so dismissed the case without costs.

UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO TEAM TO PLAY THE TIGERS

The University of Toronto Rugby team, which won the inter-collegiate championship by defeating Queen's on Saturday, is one of the lightest and youngest teams that have won the honors in many years. Last year's very small and very young, but this year's team is both lighter and younger. The only advantage this team has is in length—they are an inch and a half taller than their predecessors. The following statistics should prove illuminating:

Hugh Gall, captain and centre half, is the back-bone of the team. His punting and running has been one of the features of this season. He is 22 years old, six feet tall and weighs 160 pounds. He learned the game at Parkdale College Institute, and has played on the blue and white seniors for four years.

Jack Maynard, weight 159, height 5 feet 10 inches, age 19, plays left half, and is in second year medicine. Jack has been the sensation of the rugby season. From a lowly sub, he arose in the game against Ottawa College into a star. He is a great dodging runner, a fair punter, and sure catcher. He learned the game at Trinity College School, Port Hope. He comes from an Stratford, and is also a hockey player.

Charlie Gage's last year on the scrumline and at outside wing, has been played at right half this year. His weight of 188 pounds makes him invaluable in assisting the wings. His tackling and holding ability makes him a very valuable man. He stands 6 feet 2 inches, and is 22 years old. He is in his last year, and comes from Hamilton.

"Reddy" Dixon is 20 years old, weighs 5 feet 7 inches, and weighs 162 pounds. He played at right half for 7 seniors when he was 17, and learned the game with the Hamilton Argonauts, and under Ben Simpson at Hamilton Collegiate. He is one of the suremen on loose balls in the business. Billy Foulis at quarter back is one of the best men in his position playing football. He gets the ball cleanly and passes it accurately. He first played the game at Harbord Collegiate and with Varsity thirds and seconds. Last year he caught the first team end made good. He is 23 years of age, weighs 152 pounds, and stands 5 feet 7 1/2 inches. He is in his final year School of Science.

Average weight of backs, 165 1/2 lbs, as against 160 lbs. last year.

Jack Carroll is a senior in senior company who has been making good. He is in his senior year at Dental College, but will be back next year for a post-graduate course. He is 23 years old, weighs 178 lbs., stands 5 feet 11 inches. He learned the game in his home town, Guelph, and played with McGill seconds in 1906. Varsity II, in '07, '08, and '09. He has good speed for a scrumline man and won the race for football players on Field Day.

Munmy Bell, the great little 150 lb. scrumline, is in his fourth year. He is 23 years of age and stands 5 feet 5 inches. He has played on the first two years. He learned the rudiments of the game at Upper Canada College and comes from near Orillia. He is the greatest line plunger in the business for his weight.

Jack Lecard is another new man on the team. He learned to play at Parkdale Collegiate. He was a member

NEGRO CHAMPION NERVOUS WRECK

Jack Johnson, Fearing He May Do Harm, Gives Wife Charge of Revolver

Lowell, Mass., Nov. 22.—Jack Johnson, world's heavyweight champion, is suffering from nervous prostration. The big fellow loses his memory at times and fearing that he might do some harm he has his wife take charge of his revolver.

Johnson will fill his theatrical engagements this week, after which he will cancel his bookings and take a rest. He is using medicine now to keep him up through the week-end. "I'm not feeling right," said the "big fellow," in a surprising statement today. "The doctors tell me I've got nervous prostration. I never suspected that would strike me."

"Saturday night at Lawrence I lost my memory. I could not seem to understand what was being said to me. I was wrong and I told my wife to take my revolver as something told me I might do harm with it. I won 12 to the nearest cold water faucet and let water pour on my head. A doctor was called right away."

"In Havre I felt so bad on Monday night that I cut out my monologue and limited myself to a boxing stance. I attribute my condition to overwork. I haven't had a rest since my fight with Jeffries, and I suppose it's only natural that something should happen to me. I'm going to take a long rest. I'm going to give up my world tour until I recover."

"Capitol" Beers vs. "Budweiser"

We beg to inform our many patrons that we are using a temporary label for our "Capitol" Beer as an injunction has been granted by the Courts restraining us from using our original "Capitol" label pending our law suit with the Anheuser-Busch Brewing Association, of St. Louis, Mo. The quality of "Capitol" however will be just the same, or better if we can make it so; and judging from the demand we are sure that our patrons know from experience that it is the BEER and not the label that has made "Capitol" so widely popular.

THE greatest opportunity ever presented to the investing public of Edmonton! A glance at the key plan above will show that Munson Addition is a bona fide proposition. The C.N.R. Townsite is within one block of this property and their prices range from $700 to $1,500. Compare these with ours!

Munson is the Divisional Point on the Vegreville to Calgary extension as well as being the Junction of the Goose Lake extension from Saskatoon. The third line of the C.N.R. from Regina to Calgary will cross the Red Deer line at this point also. This will make Munson the greatest railway centre of all the new towns on the different lines of railway.

Munson is right in the heart of one of the best Agricultural Districts in the Province. Every quarter section for miles around is homesteaded and there is no land for the speculators or large corporations to acquire, thereby retarding the development of the country and consequently the growth of the town as has been the case at other points.

Munson has two Banks, two Drug Stores, six General Stores, three Lumber Yards, two Livery barns, two restaurants, and two Hotels under course of construction. We will offer Munson addition for sale on Monday, the 21st instant. Sale opens at 10 o'clock a.m. Prices from $75.00 up. Terms 1-4 Cash, Balance in 6, 12 and 18. Don't hesitate! RESOURCES OF THE NORTH NOT UNKNOWN

According to the Calgary Alberta, which has been a consistent opponent of a railroad to the north, the province would not be justified at the present time in undertaking construction of a road from Edmonton to Fort McMurray, giving as a reason that the resources of the country which the road is intended to develop are unknown.

Waiving entirely the right to presume that the Alberta is inspired by motives of prejudice against the northern as distinct from the southern half of the province, it must be said that the sentiment expressed is unworthy of the Alberta.

Had the men who projected the Canadian Pacific Railway waited until the resources of the districts which the road was projected to tap had been demonstrated there would be no Calgary today, and no transcontinental road would have gone through the country which the C. P. R. is now spending millions to get water into.

Without questioning the capabilities of the country, however, the road was built and the result is a prosperous and flourishing community. There were few less promising prospects as a town than the bald prairie which the surveyors found when they first visited the site of Calgary, and there are few better cities to-day.

On this point, therefore, the Alberta's argument is weak—to weak to stand alone.

But that is not the worst feature about it. The Alberta's argument against a road to the north is founded on premises which are not facts.

The north country is not unknown. Its resources have been mapped and classified in the records of the departments in Ottawa until few uninhabited countries in the world are better known. Its timber resources are not only known to the people of this province, but so well known to the timber men of the world that thousands upon thousands of acres have already been acquired by United States and British capital against the day when a road would be built to tap the waterways of the northern system. Its mineral resources have been made known through the blue books of the Dominion for twenty years. Its asphalt, gas, salt and petroleum resources are to be found in at least fifty reports of the department of the interior. Mineralogists such as Dawson, McConnell, Ogilvie and Bell have examined the country and reported to the department. Botanists such as Macoun, agronomists of note, drillers like Fraser, and naturalists of international reputation have visited the country and have reported. Meteorological reports covering more than a quarter of a century are available in Ottawa, to the Alberta or anyone else. Hundreds of maps have been published, and Hon. Frank Oliver himself, now for some unaccountable reason one of the most strenuous opponents of a north and south road, was responsible for the production of a 100-page book entitled "Alberta's Fertile Northland" which is as complete a summary of the resources of the country as anyone might wish. Added to this there is the senate committee's report with hundreds of pages setting out in detail the resources of the country tapped by the northern system of waterways.

These records are all official, and are vouched for by the government. They are not the reports of cursory observers or unattached travellers who have visited the north, and the men who wrote them had no motive for telling anything except the truth.

With all such compiled information before it, it is a remarkable thing that a newspaper of the standing of the Alberta should undertake to state that the resources of the north country are unknown. No statement could be farther from correct and nothing could be said which would have a greater tendency to suggest that the Alberta is simply knocking the north for no good reason except that it is the north.

CIVIL WAR PROBABLE IN MEXICO

Uprisings in Mexico which have for their basis a feeling against the United States portend a great deal more than appears on the surface.

For years back the great financial interests of the United States have been friendly to the Diaz administration and the Diaz administration has reciprocated by allowing concessions in mining and grazing lands, utility franchises, water powers and timber rights.

Mexico, nominally a republic, is really an oligarchy, and Diaz a dictator. The policy which he has followed is unsatisfactory to a very large percentage of intelligent Mexicans, but Diaz rules with an iron hand and the appearance of any opposition is the signal for prosecution and imprisonment. The last man who accepted a nomination for the presidency was put in jail and kept there until after the travesty which is called an election in Mexico was concluded.

Under these conditions a revolution would not be at all surprising and it is quite in line with the circumstances that the Mexicans would express their hatred first of the Yankees. Especially is this so of the more illiterate of the Mexicans, for the rubber and sisal plantation, in which actual slavery still exists, are very largely owned by companies having headquarters in the United States. Mexican laborers who see their friends and members of their own family dragged off to the hot regions of the south, to be worked or lashed to death that dividends may be paid to a United States company, are likely to ask few questions when they see a chance to avenge themselves and to them a revolution would come as an opportunity to exact a terrible tribute of revenge, not only from the officers of their own government, but from the hated Americans as well.

On the surface Mexico has appeared complacent for years, but down below there has been seething discontent, and the dispatch which tells of five hundred men shot probably marks the opening of a civil war.

HUMANITY LOSES A FRIEND IN TOLSTOI

Count Leo Tolstoy, one of the greatest friends of humanity that the world has ever known, is dead.

With no weapon but a pen and no armor but a universal love and pity for his abused fellow countrymen, Tolstoy became such an influence in the land of the Czar that even the autocrats of the police department were afraid to lay hands on him, and the peasant population looked to him as an unflinching sympathizer in their time of affliction.

There can not be another Tolstoy because Tolstoy himself, by his life and works, forced the reform of many of the conditions which furnished him with the stage setting which made him a great actor.

But Russians, in the struggles for constitutional freedom, will remember him as the bravest of the brave, the most unselfish of men and a hero to whom future generations will be building monuments when the ashes of the present Czar are mouldering in a forgotten tomb.

JUST PARAGRAPHS

Dr. Crippen at least has possession of the piece of information which few men ever hold. He knows just exactly when he is going to die.

Two brave men have come along and offered their services to the city as aldermen. If prior rights give any claim to the vote of the free and independent, these two have established themselves.

What Will I Give?

This problem will easily be solved when you look through our stock. Our stock is very large and up-to-date and we would be very pleased to have you come in and look around.

As a subscriber to the Capital, I desire all pamphlets, circulars, maps and other particulars relating to Camrose Townsite, which is being sold by you at Auction on November 25, 26 and 28. The Seton Smith Co., 63 McDougall Avenue, Edmonton.

What Camrose Offers to the Shrewd Investor

RAILWAY FACILITIES—Camrose is not a way station, but a great railway centre; the three railways did not come to Camrose as an incident in the cross country building. No; it was the 'UNEQUALLED LOCATION and point of vantage as a distributing centre that brought the three great transcontinental railways to Camrose. The C. P. R., C. N. R., and G. T. P. have interchanging trackage on every line, and at an early date there will be railroads radiating in seven different directions from Camrose.

UNLIMITED OPPORTUNITIES FOR CAPITAL—Banks and Capitalists show unbounded faith in Camrose by establishing branches there, thus Camrose offers greater combined advantages than many of the larger and older Western Cities for investments of capital and enterprise, and nowhere in Camrose is there such a great opportunity for investment as the unsold portion of Camrose townsite, located as it is in the heart of the town. This property will increase in leaps and bounds, being built up as it is with the best residences in Camrose. So do not lose this opportunity of getting in on the balance.

Shakespeare must have intended buying in Camrose when he used these beautiful and true words.

WHEAT BELT AND MIXED FARMING COUNTRY—Surrounding the town of Camrose on all sides are acres and acres of rich farming lands. Probably no town in the west has such a district, so exceptionally fertile to draw from. Camrose is a young town; the district tributary thereto is newly broken and has wonderful room for development. Nature has placed the resources there which guarantee that the Camrose district will support a large and thickly populated community. North, east, south and west smaller towns will bring their trade to Camrose because they can be served more quickly and more cheaply. On account of its unique position Camrose is rapidly becoming one of the principal points in Western Canada, which will feed the empire with grain and cattle.

TO MAKE THIS PROPOSITION DOUBLY PROFITABLE AND INTERESTING, WE ARE HAVING

which will take place with the Auction Sale of the unsold portion of the Camrose Townsite. CONDITIONS

The purchasers of lots at this sale will have one guess for every lot purchased at the number of beans in this bottle. The opening of the bottle and the winners of the prizes will be made known immediately after all the 450 lots have been sold. The date and time of opening the bottle will be advertised and a committee of several of the purchasers will be asked to witness the counting of the beans, when the nearest guess to the correct number of beans will receive the prizes in order respectively. Should two guess the same number the value of the prize or prizes, will be divided.

The Conquest of Canaan

When the ancient Hebrews, for was "alone in the world" and she would not take him to the cottage where he had lived for many years by himself, a bleak little house, a creak of the "early days" left stranded far away in the down between a wooden mill and the water works. The workmen were beginning their dinners under the big trees, but as Sam Warden drew in the lathered horse at the gate they set down their tin buckets hastily and ran to help him lift the old man out. Carefully they bore him into the house and laid him upon a bed in one of the finished rooms. He did not speak or move, and the workmen uncovered their heads as they went out, but Joe knew that they were mistaken. "It's all right, Mr. Arp," he said, as Ariel knelt by the bed with water and restoratives. "It's all right. Don't you worry."

Then the veterans' lips twitched, and though his eyes remained closed, Joe saw that Eskew understood, for he gazed feebly. "Pos-tive-ly—no—free—seats!"

To Mrs. Loudon, sewing at an upstairs window, the sight of her stepson descending from Judge Pike's carriage was sufficiently startling, but when she saw Mamie Pike take Respectability from his master's arms and lead him tenderly indoors, while Joe and Ariel occupied themselves with Mr. Arp, the good lady sprang to her feet as if she had been stung, ruthlessly scolding her workbasket and its contents scattering over the floor and ran down the stairs three steps at a time.

At the front door she met her husband, entering for his dinner, and she leaped at him. "What has he seen? What is it? What has happened?" Mr. Loudon rubbed his chin beard, indulging himself in a pause which was like to prove fatal to his companion, finally vouchsafing the information that the doctor's buggy was just turning the corner. Eskew Arp had suffered a "stroke," it was said, and in London's opinion, was a mighty sick man. His spouse replied in no uncertain terms that she had seen quite that much for herself, urging him to continue, which he did with a deliberation that caused her to recall her wedding day with a gust of passionate self reproach. Presently he managed to interpose, pointing out that her dining room windows commanded as comprehensive a view of the next house as did the front steps, and after a time her benevolently duty no far prevailed over her indignation at the man's unwholesome stupidity that she followed him down the hall to preside over the meal, but, however, to partake largely of it herself.

Mr. Loudon had no information of Eugene's mishap, nor had Mrs. Loudon any suspicion that all was not well with the young man, and, hearing him enter the front door, she called to him that his dinner was waiting. Eugene, however, made no reply and went upstairs to his own apartment without coming into the dining room.

A small crowd, neighboring children, servants and negroes, had gathered about Ariel's gate, and Mrs. Loudon watched the workmen disperse this assembly, gather up their tools and depart. Then Mamie came out of the house and, bowing slightly to three old men who were entering the gate as she left, stepped into her carriage and drove away. The newcomers, Colonel Pittcroft, Squire Bucklewell and Peter Stradbury, glanced at the doctor's buggy, shook their heads at one another and slowly went up to the porch, where Joe met them. Mrs. Loudon uttered a sharp exclamation, for the colonel shook hands with her stepson.

Perhaps Pittcroft himself was surprised. He had offered his hand almost unconsciously, and the greeting was embarrassed and perfunctory, but his two companions, each in turn, gravely followed his lead, and Joe's set face flushed a little. It was the first time in many years that men of their kind in Canaan had offered him this salutation.

"He wouldn't let me send for you," he told them. "He said he knew you'd be here soon without that." And he led the way to Eskew's bedside.

Joe and the doctor had undressed the sick man and laid him into his night-gear of heavy flannel taken from an antique chest. It was soft and yellow and much more the color than the face where it, for the while hung on the pillow was not wicker than that. Yet there was a strange youthfulness in the eyes of Eskew, an eerie, inexplicable luminous, live look. The thin cheeks seemed fuller than they had been for years, and, though the heavier lines of age and sorrow could be seen, they appeared to have been half erased. He lay not in sunshine, but in clear light. The windows were open, the curtains restrained, for he had asked them not to darken the room.

The doctor was whispering in a doctor's way to Ariel at the end of the room opposite the bed when the three old fellows came in. None of them spoke immediately, and though all three cleared their throats with what they meant for casual cheerfulness to indicate that the situation was not at all extraordinary or depressing, it was to be seen that the colonel's chin trembled under his mustache, and his comrades showed similar small and unwilling signs of emotion.

Eskew spoke first. "Well, boys?" he said and smiled. That seemed to make it more difficult for the others. The three white heads (To Be Continued.)

A La Mode

They say the Rat that maddis delight in And puffs, that matrons look a sight in Will be disbarred by race Caucasian.

So when you meet Pauline, whose hair you Wrote sonnets to—'twas so amazing— Let not her altered headgear scare you, Though now she's nothing worth the prating.

Or when you pass those once adored ones Whose tresses raised you to elation; (How could you know they were acquired ones?) Pause at your lack of observation.

Remember Omar's words on faction, "A hair divides the false and trueful." And when you find your real attraction, Though she be sweet and coy and youthful.

Tell her that woman's crowning glory Is every glossy lock she's heir to, And see if she'll complete the story By saying: "Count 'em if you care to."

English is not only, as Richard Jefferies asserted, the most expressive and flexible of tongues, but also, in Swinburne's opinion, the most musical. He proclaimed the lines:

Musie that gentler on the spirit lies Than tired eyelids on tired eyes. To be unused in order to give a subsidy of $5,000 to their growers of sugar and the Canadian Government reciprocating the process.

Governor-in-Chief of Jamaica Does Not Think Preferential Arrangement With Canada is Practical.

Kingston, Jamaica.—Governor-in-Chief of Jamaica, Sir Sydney Oliver, head of the Jamaican Government, has forwarded a despatch to the Earl of Crewe, Secretary of State for the Colonies, dealing with trade relations between the West Indies and Canada.

The possibility of retaliation by the United States not entering into the question of reciprocal arrangements with Canada, he says.

"Dealing with this question on its merits it appears to me that except possibly as a means of buying access to artificial markets when natural markets are closed, any reciprocal tariff arrangement must be an extravagant and inconvenient complication for the communities concerned, or at any rate for this colony in relation to others."

NEW "WHITE HOPE"

But Unfortunately, the Man Picked to Kick Arthurs is Also Dark

Winnipeg, Nov. 21.—Winnipeg fight fans claim they have found the coming champion, the man to whip Jack Johnson. He is also a colored man. "Big Smoke" Robinson is the name he has by. He has a splendid physique, is a good boxer, has a terrific wallop, and apparently plenty of pluck. He has put to sleep everything in the heavy-weight line in the west by the knockout route, and the Winnipeg fight fans, who are legion, are trying to match Robinson up against some of the real class big fellows. Pugilism is booming in Winnipeg just now, and there are weekly fights with a thousand to two thousand in attendance.

Blue Ribbon Tea is fully satisfying. So fresh, rich and strong are its leaves that it makes more tea of a better quality than any other you can procure. Not only is its quality most pleasing but it is also the most economical tea to use. You will find this out if you buy a pound, and give it a trial.
